Dear Mr. Norton:

RE: MUR 5642

This letter amends our Complaint filed on January 18, 2005 against George Soros, The World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, and other Respondents.

I enclose:

EXHIBIT D: Promotional material regarding a photo marketed by Getty images showing Respondent Soros holding aloft his book titled The Bubble of American Supremacy and a direct mail brochure titled Why We Must Not Re-Elect President Bush. The book was cited in our original Complaint and the brochure was attached as Exhibit C. The September 29, 2005 photo demonstrates that both publications were present during Soros speaking tour, during which he repeatedly called for the defeat of George Bush and the election of John Kerry.

EXHIBIT E: An audiocassette recording of Soros' speech to Respondent World Affairs Council of Philadelphia purchased from the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia. The Commission is urged to produce a transcript of the tape and examine Soros' statements calling for the defeat of George Bush and the election of John Kerry.

EXHIBIT F: A webpage printed today from GeorgeSoros.com, a website established by Respondent Soros. It reads, in part, "GeorgeSoros.com was established in the run-up to the 2004 election as part of Mr. Soros's campaign to urge his fellow citizens not to reelect the President. In addition to the website, Mr. Soros mailed a personal appeal to two million voters, purchased advertisements in more than 50 newspapers, undertook a 12-city speaking tour, and published his views in a book, The Bubble of American Supremacy: the Cost of Bush's War in Iraq."

Complainant provides these three items in order to counter any possible representation that Respondent's anti-Bush tour and related activities had a purpose other than influencing a federal election, such as promoting a discussion of "foreign policy" or "economics."

Complainant, upon information and belief and relying on personal knowledge and the exhibits attached hereto as evidence of the possible violations of law set forth above, hereby swears under penalty of perjury that the statement and facts of the Complaint are true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

The New Bush Doctrine, by George Soros
(Posted January 26, 2005)

President George W. Bush's second inaugural address set forth an ambitious vision of the role of the United States in advancing the cause of freedom worldwide, fueling worldwide speculation over the course of American foreign policy during the next four years. The ideas expressed in Bush's speech thus deserve serious consideration.

"[I]t is the policy of the United States to seek and support the growth of democratic movements and institutions in every nation and culture," Bush declared, "with the ultimate goal of ending tyranny in our world."

There is a bow to diplomacy in the assurance that fulfilling this mission "is not primarily the task of arms, though we will defend our friends and ourselves by force of arms when necessary." Similarly, Bush recognizes that outsiders cannot force liberty on people. Instead, "Freedom by its nature must be chosen and defended by citizens and sustained by the rule of law and the protection of minorities."
